It now actually transpires that the row between the Infanta and Mrs. Potter Palmer arose from the fact that in the afternoon the Princess took a limberger cheese lunch at the German Village in the Midway Place and that it was her awful breath that paralyzed conversation at the evening reception at Mrs. Palmers.

THE VEILED LADY.

A Mysterious Woman Who Haunts the Capitol Square.

For several nights past a mysterious veiled lady has haunted the Capitol square and caused no end of discussion and speculation. She is a tall lady dressed in black and heavily veiled. She stands motionless under the trees and follows people who pass through the square.

The other night she suddenly stepped out from behind a tree in front of Dr. Lee. He stopped a moment to let her pass, when she paused and then as he walked on followed him to the gate. He turned and asked what she wanted, but she merely paused and made no reply. As he passed through the gate he left her standing there.

The Governor had a similar experience and several of the State officers have been followed like a shadow by the mysterious female. She never speaks a word or lifts her heavy veil and she became such an annoyance that some of our citizens go clear around the square rather than run the risk of encountering her.

If your husband uses tobacco, you want him to quit, post yourself about No-to-bac the wonderful, harmless, guaranteed tobacco habit cure, by sending for our little book titled: "Don't Tobacco Spit and smoke your life away," mailed free. Drug Stores generally sell No-to-bac. The Sterling Remedy Co., Indiana Mineral Springs, Indiana. j19tf.

A Query.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE APPEAL:—I would like to ask a question. I am one of the contestants in the Beauty Contest, started by your paper. My name was sent in there without my knowledge, (though of course I didn't mind) but I am so low on the list that I have no chance of winning, as there are many with more votes and handsomer faces. I want to know if persons whose names are on the list can withdraw in favor of some one else and let those votes be counted for the other lady. Several ladies would like to know about this.

A BEAUTY CONTESTANT.

[We advise the lady to stay in for she may win. Lots of people are saving up votes to dump in the last day and some speedy young men may have several hundred stowed away for you. It would hardly be fair to allow people to draw out in favor of others. It would be unfair to those casting the vote.—Ed. APPEAL.]

The vote now stands as follows:

|----------------------------|----|
| Miss Lottie Gladding..... | 76 |
| Mrs Sam Wright..... | 69 |
| Mrs P Dupuis..... | 51 |
| Miss Ella Cahill..... | 44 |

BEAUTY CONTE T.

NAME:

MARRIED

In Carson, Nev., June 14, 1893, by Rabbi Friedlander, of Oakland, Mr. Adolph Livingston and May Novitzky, both of Carson.

The ceremony took place in the Arlington House parlors in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The contracting parties are well known in Carson, and have a host of friends, who congratulate them both.

The bride is the sister-in-law of Mr. Isador Stein of the Arlington, and the groom is—well, everybody knows "Liv."

The happy pair left on last night's train on their bridal tour. The APPEAL wishes them any amount of happiness.

The APPEAL acknowledges the receipt of the usual mementoes of such occasions.

Rather Neat.

There is a lively war in San Francisco between the Report and Post. Each accuses the other of stealing its telegraphic news.

A few days ago the Post printed a bogus dispatch from Vennia about a woman who stole and murdered babies. The Post laid the scene in the village of Swenlaetsew, printed a few copies, so that the Report could get it and then removing the bogus dispatch from the forms printed the rest of the edition without it.

The Report took the bait and in its expose the Post showed that the village of Swenlaetsew was merely the words "We Steal News" spelled backward.

We Get the Cure.

It is gratifying to learn that the charge that this is an old foggy town, is a mistake. People predicted that the hundred shares of Keely stock would never be taken. They were taken in two days, and people who want it now can't get it. It was taken at $50 a share and if you want it now, it costs $75 of the original holders.

The following was received yesterday:

San Francisco, June 14.

W. C. NOTEWARE:—Your telegram received. I have ordered the medicine shipped to Carson and we will commence business there by the 10th proximo.
